

Backend Developer - Python/Django

We are looking for Python/Django developers with 2-4 + years of experience to be part of our growing team. The role is of Python/Django Backend Web Developer who can handle the challenging work of Web applications development using Python / Django framework.

Required Skills:

- Strong working knowledge of constructs of HTTP, RESTful APIs and WebSockets.
- Build and maintain highly scalable Python processes for the purpose of data collection, manipulation, data pruning, trending and analytics, etc.
- Strong understanding of Python and good knowledge of various Python Libraries (NumPy, Pandas, ORM libraries etc.), API's and toolkits
- Able to integrate multiple data sources and databases into one system
- Working knowledge of web templating engine for python such as Jinja2 etc
- Ability to integrate user-facing elements developed by front-end developers with server-side logic.
- Ability to integrate data storage solutions and caches.
- Understanding of the threading limitations of Python, and multi-process architecture
- Understanding of fundamental design principles behind a scalable application
- Good understanding of event-driven programming in Python
- Good knowledge of PostGRESQL
- Able to create database schemas that represent and support business processes
- Strong Analytical, Problem Solving & Innovative Skills.
- Working knowledge of version control tools (GIT/SVN).
- Experience/knowledge of working on the LINUX environment.
- Attention to detail, problem-solver with strong analytical skill, good sense of urgency
- Ability to carry out tasks without supervision and able to meet tight deadlines
- Good Writing & Communication Skills. The candidate should be able to communicate with potential Clients and gather inputs/change requests.
- Work with a performance oriented team driven by ownership and open to experiments

- Strong interpersonal skills with excellent written and verbal communication

Responsibilities:

- Develop back-end components to improve responsiveness and overall performance
- Designing and implementing system architecture to handle scale
- Coordinate with Frontend Dev team & Creating APIs (w/ DjangoRestFramework)
- Integrating of web pages with Backend using templating engines for Python
- Build bulletproof API integrations with third party APIs for various use cases

Good to have (Additional Skills):

- Relevant full stack experience.
- You've worked with core AWS services in the past and have experience with EC2, ELB, AutoScaling, CloudFront, S3
- Demonstrable work/project portfolio online.
- Working knowledge of front end technologies like Javascript, JQuery, HTML, and CSS
- A good sense of design and aesthetics.
- Experience/Zeal to work in a fast-paced startup environment.
- Candidates who can join immediately will be preferredDevelop very high sense of ownership, the zeal to build scalable applications

Job Type: Full-time

Salary: ₹35,000.00 - ₹55,000.00 per month

Experience:

- Django Development: 1 year (Preferred)
- total work: 2 years (Preferred)

Education:

- Bachelor's (Preferred)

Work Remotely:

- Temporarily due to COVID-19